For a just world

01-2010

Oxfam Fairtrade is the reference brand for fair trade food. We distribute our products, made with respect for people and the environment, in Belgium as well as abroad. We opt for sustainable development and encourage organic farming where possible. Already one third of our products are certified organic.

Buying food products from small or medium-sized producer cooperatives in the South and paying them a fair price enables us to raise the standard of living of thousands of families.

Fair trade allows farmers and workers to invest in better training, health care, housing, infrastructure, and to improve their working conditions... in short, they can invest in their own development.

It is you, our customer, who makes this possible. Together, we can make a difference for our producers in the South, day after day.
